INFORMATIONAL MEETING

The following questions were submitted under this procurement.

1. Under Section 7.0.E of the RFQ, proposers are required to submit resumes for ten key personnel based on the information currently available, including Appendix A and the project description provided in the RFQ. The RFQ Introduction (page 2) indicates that additional technical information, including the ART 30% design, will be provided to shortlisted firms during the RFP phase. To ensure alignment with ALCOSAN's expectations as the project definition advances, please confirm whether shortlisted firms will be permitted to revise or supplement the proposed key personnel in their final proposal.
  - a. Yes, a Consultant may revise or supplement proposed key personnel in response to additional technical information provided in the RFP. The Consultant shall include a narrative explaining the personnel changes, provide updated resumes and roles, and a comparison matrix to illustrate original personnel proposed in the RFQ submission vs revised proposed personnel.
